

18th SILICON
SAXONY
DAY JUNE 11, 2024

With more than 600 participants, Silicon Saxony Day is one of the most important international high-tech and networking conferences in Europe. Once a year, experts and exhibitors meet in the melting pot of Silicon Saxony to exchange ideas, experience best practices at first hand and discuss current trends and demonstrators.

Join the event for cross-industry networking, knowledge & technology transfer and an open exchange on ICT technologies and their use.
Make your company and your services visible! Choose one of our sponsorship packages or create a customized sponsorship package with us.

Together we connect, exchange and grow our ideas for the future.

LOCATION

Futuristic industrial architecture, fascinating ambience and first-class guest service - this is what Dresden Airport - the international event and experience center stands for.

The event is located under the glass roof of the terminal and offers a panoramic view of the runway and part of Silicon Saxony.

The international airport is located on the highway and is easily accessible by public transportation. There are numerous hotels in the surrounding area and especially in Dresden city center.
